2,300 RICHMOND MARKETS. A VIRGINIA FUEL IN NEW YORK,—Most of our Bichmend readers are tamiliar with the native Virginia fuel sold in tids market as soft coke, and we presume the greater number have learned by picasant experience that the Carbon Hil soft coke, as now mined, and sold in Richmond, is the bost coal they can obtain for cooking purposes. It will be news, however, to many who will see this item that this same fuel, under the name of "Carbonite," is being introduced by the James River Goal Company into the New York and Boston markets, where it takes high rank as a fuel for open grates, and is receiving many favorable notices from the daily and c ad-trade papers. We understand that the company are arranging to largely increase their business this season, and expect to make considerable shipments to the North, while aff reling to Richmond a supply equal to the demand of our market of good soft coke.

A visit to the stove department of the State Fair, where this ceal is in deliy use, will enable house-keepers to learn how to co their cooking and warm their dwellings without wood or coal. WEDNESDAY, October 28, 1874. Country Produce. Roots: Ginseng, $1.25@$1.50.; seneca, without

A PLEASANT FNTERTAINMENT ON BOARD THE YACHT NAUTHUS.—On Tuesday a party of ladies and gentlemen, by special invitation, visited the beautiful yacht "Nautins" of Norfolk, owned and commanded by Commodore M. M. R. Todd, which is now lying at her wharf in the dock, at the foot of Seventeenth street.

On leaching the vessel the party were received with a salvo of three guns, and escorted on heard by the Commodore hlusself, who welcomed in a most cornel manner his fair guests. After enjoying a denghinol repast, and making a tone of inspection of the little craft, the party left, highly pleased with the r visit and emerganization. River, $2.10@;$2.25.

The Nau-lius-but what shall be said of her? To say that shi is a model chaft, and when on board of her a guest of a commodore Todd as comfortsbleas we could possibly be in any hotel in the South-Would convey a table idea of the attractiveness of this vessel. Her capacity is about twenty tons, and her model is well-nigh perfect. As a fast safer she is said to have no superior, she is a specimen of naval architecure not often seen in these parts; and being commanded by an old Virginia gentleman, a visit to her hospitable quarters is a pleasure long to be remembered. Success to Commodore Todd and the Nauthus. Bry Goods.
